Conservatives Select Clark to Contest Rocky Mtn. Riding

Joe Clark of Edson received the required 50 per cent majority on the second ballot count at the P.C. nomination windup in Drayton Valley Saturday night and won the right to represent the party in Rocky Mountain riding in the next federal election.

Deputy Returning Officer, Jack Tyler (R), supervises opening of ballot boxes.

Winner Joe Clark with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark of High River.

Mr. Clark's win against Doug Caston of Edson and Hugh Gourlay of Banff was a result of 10 nomination meetings throughout the riding that began in Blairmore March 6 and ended in Drayton Valley March 18. Clark defeated Caston on the second ballot count with Gourlay dropping out after the first round.

Clark, former executive assistant to P.C. leader Robert Stanfield, has been involved in politics for over 10 years, and has found that in a large riding such as Rocky Mountain, division often occurs between extreme ends. A determined effort to avoid any such possibility will be his first concern, he said.

His intentions are, he went on, to serve the whole riding and to serve so well that voters will keep electing him.

When he takes the seat in Ottawa, he said, he will be a spokesman for the "spirit" of Rocky Mountain.

"I will relate the common sense of independence, the respect of self-reliance, and the pride Western Canadians have of being on the building end of Canada."

"We will have to put forward positive proposals, and since the country is for the people, we will need practical ways to achieve individualism," said Clark.

"We must form a national policy that will maintain the strength of Canadians," he said.

"We must take the focus off the east and bring it to the west," he added. "The future of Canada lies in the west."

The three candidates had travelled over 1,000 miles with the ballot box, and, as a result of the meetings, had attained about 1,000 paid-up members in the Alberta Federal Progressive Conservative Association. Some 158 of about 900 votes in the constituency were cast in Drayton Valley Saturday.

About 250 PC members attended the final meeting in the Frank Maddock High School, with Pat O'Connell, Superintendent of Amoco, MC for the evening. The meeting was chaired by Mrs. Marilyn MacLean, area vice-president.

Greetings and 'best-of-lucks' were offered by Mayor Lloyd MacLean; Roy Watson, National Vice-President of the PC Association and northern regional coordinator on the federal level; Mr. McVeety, southern regional coordinator on the federal level; Bob Soule, President of Alberta PC Association; MLA Rusty Zander; MLA Peter Trynchy for Whitecourt; MLA Ernie Jameison for St. Albert; and Malvern Davies, President of the Rocky Mountain PC Association.

Hon. Gerald Baldwin, MP for Peace River and Opposition House Leader in the House of Commons, was guest speaker during the ballot count.

Born in New Zealand, he moved to the Peace River area in 1928, becoming a lawyer and a farmer. He first ran for MP in 1935, was elected to Parliament in 1958, became parliamentary secretary to Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in 1962, and, during the Pearson regime, was the first opposition member to take the chair of Public Accounts.

Mr. Baldwin took the Liberal government to task for waste of public funds and failure to make a determined effort to get true value for massive spending. The people of Canada have good reason to be annoyed, he said.

He went on to cite federal waste, ranging from the Department of Information which has cost Canadians $20 million over the past two years to unusual spending in the Defense Department, including the Bonaventure refit fiasco and the hydrofoil project that cost millions before being moth-balled.

He charged that the government has attempted to muzzle the Auditor-General's Department.

Mr. Baldwin noted that the next federal election would be a most crucial one. There is a feeling of dismay in Canada, caused by the Liberal government, which he said, has lost the confidence of people in all walks of life.

In urging support and work for newly-elected candidate he said, "another four years of the same kind of government could place the nation in a position from which it could never recover."

First speaker of the three candidates was Doug Caston, a former MP, who based his talk on a personnel evaluation theme, comparing himself and Mr, Clark through the eyes of a prospective employer.

Hugh Gourlay, PC candidate in the last election, felt that the Trudeau government was beginning to crumble.

"Trudeaumania," he said, "is changing to Trudeauphobia."

Returning Officer for the travelling nominations was Malvern Davies. Deputy Returning Officers in the northern area were Jack and Peggy Tyler of Drayton Valley.

M.P. ALLEN SULATYCKY

Allan Sulatycky Town Visitor

Allan Sulatycky, Liberal MP for the Rocky Mountain constituency paid Drayton Valley a visit last week.

Originally he planned to spend Thursday afternoon, all day Friday and leave Saturday morning; unfortunately, the Mayor of Edson passed away last week and, being a personal friend, Mr. Sulatycky attended the funeral Friday morning.

Mr. Sulatycky visited numerous people who had phoned asking for his attention to their problems.

Thursday evening, he met people who are interested in seeing him re-elected. Mr. Blair Williams, Liberal party organizer was with him. The meeting took place in the Jack McLean home. On Friday evening, he was a guest at the Sportsmen's Dinner, leaving the same night to catch the plane for Ottawa.

Mr. Sulatycky will be back within two or three weeks and plans to canvass Drayton Valley. Anyone who wishes more information please phone Mrs. McLean at 542-3073.

Whitecourt M.L.A. Seconds Reply

Whitecourt MLA Peter Trynchy was given the honor of seconding the Reply to the Throne Speech at the recent opening of the Alberta Legislative Assembly. The Wildwood-Evansburg area is a part of Mr. Trynchy's riding.

Mr. Trynchy noted that the event he would never forget and went on to thank friends and constituents who attended the session. Among those present were students from Mayerthorpe High School along with their teacher and Principal Elder Stelter.

In his speech, he said, "Some moments in life take on a very special meaning. I believe the present moment to be such a one, not only for myself and my fellow citizens of the Riding of Whitecourt, whatever their political affiliation.

"It is a great honor for me and for the Whitecourt Consituency, to be invited to move this address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, and , at this time, I want to thank the Hon. Premier for this privelege.

"Apart from the personal honor, it seems particularly appropriate that this opportunity should be given to the representative of the Whitecourt Constituency because, in a sense, we are a pocket edition of the whole province of Alberta. Within our boundaries are old districts with settled traditions, and brand new towns; people who have lived long lives in one place, and others who moved in the day before yesterday."

"Many of Alberta's rich resources can be found in the Whitecourt Constituency: agriculture, oil and gas, timber, water, and, like the province, our communities are formed by people whose ancestors came from many parts of the globe. Also, it is perhaps fitting that a new member from a new constituency should be the first to speak in the Legislature after the election of a new government."

Editorial Comment

Congratulations, Joe

Our congratulations to Joe Clark the successful candidate of the traveling trio in the Rocky Mountain P.C. nomination convention. His opponents, Doug Caston of Edson and Hugh Gourlay of Banff, made a good, clean fight of the nomination match before losing out to their younger opponent.

Mr. Clark's formidable task however, is yet to come when he will likely be matched in the next federal election against another on-the-move, youthful adversary in Allen Sulatycky, the sitting member. Indications point to an interesting election campaign in Rocky Mountain.

New Bill Should Help

A new bill introduced in the Legislative Assembly last week should help to cut down on illegal hunting and perhaps eliminate the possibility of another slaughter of the moose butchery type that gained so much attention last fall. The bill will increase the general penalty for hunting offences from $300 to $1000 and third or subsequent offences from $400 to $1500.

The legislation is commendable and overdue. With burgeoning population and ever-increasing hunting pressure, the time has certainly come when those who abuse hunting privileges should be hit hard where it hurts -- in the pocket book.

Successful Convention Concluded

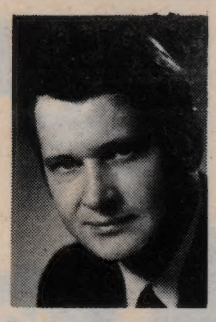
In Drayton Valley Saturday evening we saw the conclusion of an unique and successful nomination convention.

About 900 Progressive Conservative supporters in Rocky Mountain riding had the opportunity of expressing themselves through the medium of the travelling convention which allowed balloting in ten communities. This compared very favorably with an overflow crowd of 350 but only eighty-eight eligible voters under a zone voting system at the Wetaskiwin riding meeting in Leduc a week earlier.

The Rocky Mountain system is reported to be the only one of its kind in Canada. We think it is a good system and deserves consideration by other constituencies and other parties.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.



One of the more gratifying aspects of spending time within the House of Commons chamber, is that one is able to observe and learn from the great experts of parliamentary procedure.

The amount of precedents, incidents, and rules that must be understood in order to "know your way around", is so great that those who know them best are those who have digested them over many years.

Certainly one of the most, if not the most experienced and knowledgeable men to sit in the House of Commons is the New Democratic Party Member from Winnipeg North Centre, Stanley Knowles.

Most of Stanley Knowles' 63 years have been spent serving people. Originally a printer and a Minister, he has worked in all three levels of government, with the labour movement, and throughout the years for the CCF and NDP parties.

Except for the years 1958 to 1962, Mr. Knowles has served in the House of Commons since 1942. He has been regarded by Members of all parties, and indeed by successive Speakers of the House, as a person to be consulted and listened to when questions on the rules arise.

Mr. Knowles' great experience in Parliament, while always the subject of respect from Members on both sides of the House, has on certain occasions been the subject of good natured chiding from those same Members.

Such an occasion occurred recently. Mr. Knowles had asked a supplementary question of the Solicitor General, inquiring as to under what treaty or other arrangement the extradition of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffroy back to Canada would be sought.

On the advice of Mr. Goyer, he redirected his question to the Secretary of State for External Affairs. Mr. Sharp replied that Canada had a treaty with Spain for the mutual surrender of fugitive criminals, which was signed in London on June 4, 1878.

This answer immediately prompted laughs and comments such as "You should have known about that treaty Stanley, you were here to ratify it!" from many Members. No one realized the humour of the situation better than Mr. Knowles, as he joined other Members in laughing at himself.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

RUSTY ZANDER, M.L.A.

Meetings were held in various parts of the province of Alberta relating to the problems of surface rights owners, negotiations between owner and company, and the rights of Entry Arbitration Board are as follows:

That first of all the land agent has perhaps, through no fault of his own, created an air of suspicion and deceit about him in the eyes of the surface rights owner, and that in any event the owner of the surface rights will be caught between the land agent and the Right of Entry Arbitration Board. This atmosphere of distrust must be dispelled in one manner or other through sincere, realistic, and fair bargaining.

Secondly, the companies involved in the taking of land have shown in the past that it was all left to the land agent to acquire whatever land was necessary, and they were of the opinion that proper negotiations would be carried out, and they know that mistakes have been made in the past and realized these should have been corrected.

The other part relating to this is also that bad decisions were made by the Right of Entry Arbitration Board, and this fear has spread through the whole of the province, and ill-will against all taking of land for whatever purpose was bred amongst all surface right owners and still exists.

In my view, both the surface right owners through their organizations and the people involved in taking of surface leases or other persons desiring to do this, could best come to a good understanding of each other's problems by direct communication with each other, and I'm sure the problems could be solved and we would not have to go or we could certainly minimize the need of an Arbitration Board.

My hope is that a pipe-line of communication should begin as soon as possible, if we hope to dispell each other's fears. If we do just that, we will have accomplished a major step forward in good relationship with one another.

Tremendous Destiny for Canada -- Fr. Murray

With a speech full of nationalistic fervor and the knowledge that "Canada has a tremendous destiny", Father Athol Murray brought to a close what would appear to be a successful first Sportsmen's Dinner for Drayton Valley March 17.

"Life is what each man makes it," said Father Murray. He said that everything comes down to the individual , and he pointed out that individuals such as Marco Polo, Alexander Graham Bell, Thomas Edison were the ones who changed the world and helped to make it what it is.

He referred to the wars and expressed the wish that today's youth would be as upstanding as those he remembered who fought and died in those wars.

"Why can't young Canadians be erect and defiant?" he asked. "Why can't they stand up and be men?"

Father Murray felt that the greatest danger is conformity, and that agnosticism, naturalism, and self-sufficiency were the symptoms of the disease that is "eating at the very roots of the intellect."

In his love for Canada, he feels that this nation is destined to be a great country, and that towns like Drayton Valley will be the backbone of it.

Other guest speakers included Mike Law , defensive halfback with the Edmonton Eskimos, who felt that the future of Canadian football lies in the hands of Canadians right now.

"The choice is ours," he said. "Canadian football will be what we want it to be."

He felt that football is another piece of Canadian culture and expressed the hope that it would never be snatched away.

John Atamian, offensive guard with the Calgary Stampeders, agreed with Mr. Law, and said that he would like to see Canadian football players put on some kind of pay scale so thay they could be more in line with American players.

Jim Young, running back with the B.C. Lions and former member of the Minnesota Vikings, and Johann Louw, middleweight professional boxer, also talked about their respective sports.

Ron Hayter, Edmonton alderman and past President of the Alberta Amateur Baseball Association,felt that the lack of nationalism in Canada could be backed by "participation".

"The key thing," he said, "is that a boy is given a chance to play the sport."

FATHER ATHOL MURRAY

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Jack Boddington, Director of Revenue Programs with the City of Edmonton Recreation Department. He introduced all head table guests, including Marv Helm, Town of Drayton Valley Recreation Councillor; Bill Bucyk, hockey representative; Ben Grohn, Director of the Alberta Amateur Baseball Association; Alan Sulatycky, MP for Rocky Mountain Riding; Don Barry, U of A Golden Bears football club; Mayor MacLean, who gave the welcoming address; Orville Fisher, former professional basketball player; Mike Gormley, Town Recreation Director and coordinator of the dinner; Ken Munro, president of the Edmonton Huskie football club; Larry Knight, vice-president of the Alberta Amateur Boxing Association; Doug Messier, former professional hockey player; and Allan Ische, offensive guard with Edmonton Eskimos.

Rev. E. Lynch gave the invocation and a roast beef dinner prepared by the B.P.O.E. was served by high school students to over 150 guests.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Western Review,
Dear Sir:

As a member of the O.O.R.P., I would like to congratulate the newly-appointed board of directors for the Senior Citizens' Home. We realize, after our six years of hard work, determination and frustration, that their task may not be easy. Now that the most difficult part is behind, we can all get enthusiastic about this project and support it 100 per cent.

I would like to congratulate the Town also for having so many dignitaries to speak to the people at the sod-turning. My only regret is that our Honored Royal Lady was completely overlooked. I would like to assure the P.P.C.C.A. that the Royal Purple and Elks members will continue to work for this project, as we have done in the past, until it is completely finished and running smoothly.

$200,000 to Clear Reservoir

Over $200,000 has been spent in the last two years cleaning up debris in the reservoir behind the Brazeau dam.

Lands and Forests Minister Dr. Allan Warrack told Rusty Zander (PC-Drayton Valley) in a written answer in the legislature March 14 that his department spent $104,000 cleaning up the reservoir in fiscal 1970-71, and $115,000--including $51,000 under the Conservative Winter Priority Employment program--in the current fiscal year.

The government has embarked on a several-year program to sweep the reservoir of logs and tree trunks resulting from flooding in order that the area can be used as a recreational site.

Rebels Lead Camrose In Semi-Final Series

By DOUG BARNES

The Camrose Maroons tied up the series 1-1 last Tuesday night in Camrose by edging the Rebels 5-4. Jim Feeney led the Rebels with two goals. It was a good game, with fast skating, only six penalties given out--two to the Rebels and four to Camrose. There were no penalties in the third period, indicating the teams were busy playing hockey.

It was a close checking game with only 20 shots on the Camrose net. Lorne Foster in the Rebels net kicked 23.

Thursday's game in Drayton Valley saw the Rebels skate and shoot and score like they did during regular league games.

Henry Rocket led the Rebels with four goals and one assist. The Rebels downed Camrose 7-3. They now lead the semi-finals two games to one.

The next game will be played in Camrose Tuesday night. The date of the fourth game, if necessary, has not been set yet. If the Rebels win the semi-finals Tuesday, they will meet Wetaskiwin Colonels in the finals.

Oil Wives Celebrate Club's 14th Birthday

The D.V. Oilwives celebrated their 14th birthday March 13 in the Elks Hall, with 103 members and 81 guests present. Since the theme was St. Patrick's, everyone was to wear something green.

The program was another big success, with Oilwives hosting the Carnival Queens. Debbie Reid and Bonnie Mohn showed video tapes of their skating and Bonnie Mayer showed some of her art sketches on an overhead projector, Pearl Livingston, president of the Spruce Grove oilwives, also took part in the meeting.

Toiletrie gifts were donated to the club by different stores in Edmonton and Valley Drugs in Drayton. Winners of the gifts were Gwen McKone, Mrs. Ed Philip, Phyllis Kupsch, Muriel Hartley, Mrs. Kitchen and Colleen Bills. Also a token gift was placed at each place-setting. Thomas Adams Distillers donated outdoor prizes and these were won by Pat Jenkins and Charlotte Swendseid.

The next executive meeting is at the home of Lorraine Custance April 4 at 8:00 p.m.

SUB-MITS

FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

This week, I'd like to introduce two members of the supporting staff at the school. The first is Mrs. Rita Weir. She was born at Olds and attended school there. Then she went on to attend Olds Vocational College. She worked in Calgary with the Police, an insurance company, and an oil servicing company. Husband Bob is with Mobil Oil here. Mrs. Weir enjoys music and all crafts. Her duties at the school are those of a Business Assistant. In other words, she co-ordinates all the ordering, tries to see that everyone gets their materials, textbooks and supplies, and balance the books.

Our librarian is Mrs. Gail Oxtoby. She is a native Calgarian. Mrs. Oxtoby was originally a secretary. Then she decided that this was not for her and took two years of Teacher's training before coming to Drayton Valley. She plans to attend summer school this year and also on continuing her teacher training next year. Mrs. Oxtoby enjoys swimming and cooking. Her husband Allan works with Amoco.

The end of the winter brought another sports event to one of the buildings. Elementary B held their Toboggan races on Thursday. Winning the trophies for the grade fours was a team from Mrs. Mayan's room, consisting of Cary Jackshaw, Stephen Machan, Keith Davis, Barbara Andrews, Amy Jackson, and Susan Pederson. The grade five trophy was won by a team from Miss Yakimchuk's room. This team was made up of Stephen Strickland, Marlo Ball, Randy Romanchuk, Becky Guyon, Kim Pruss, and Kathy Olsen. And grade six honors went to Chris Beck, David Darragh, Bradley James, Dorothy Guch, Geraldine Thomas, and Theresa Dean from Mr. Betton's room. Congratulations to the winners. Trophies were presented by a group of students from Mr. Smeland's class. The executive of this room is Read Latosky, president; Brent DesBrisay, vice-president; John Suffron, secretary; and Cameron Turnbull, treasurer.

DURING OPEN HOUSE--All was quiet in Miss Stewart's room. Children were busy working in their desks. One parent was sitting at the back of the room. Finally Edward came up to the teacher's desk and said, "Do you think we should give her a book to read or something?"

Due to weather conditions Mr. A. Pierce was unable to come to Tomahawk with Drayton Valley's Community Band March 10. But they are planning to come March 27 at 7:30 p.m. Admission will be 50 cents per person. After the concert, Mr. Pierce will discuss with interested parents the formation of a Tomahawk band. Everyone is welcome.

On the weekend of March 10, 11, and 12, Mrs. Pryor and Evelyn Lukaniuk went to Banff representing Tomahawk at the Recreation Convention. They travelled with representatives from Rocky Rapids and Whitby. Two people from every community in Parkland were sent and joined by representatives from all over Alberta. Recreation problems were discussed and proposals were made in hopes to overcome some of these problems.

The Tomahawk Unifarm Ladies held their annual meeting March 9 at Marion Jouan's with seven members present. They decided to donate $25.00 to Camp He-Ho-Ha for the crippled children. Thanks go to the Unifarm ladies for the $20.00 they spent on tea towels for the Hall.

An Amateur Night is planned for March 25 at 7:30 p.m. by the Lindale 4H Swine Club in the Lindale School. More entries are needed, however.

AIR CADET NEWS

Sunday March 5, 30 cadets from RCAC 699 Jasper Place Squadron visited Drayton Valley and participated in basketball, volleyball, borden ball, bowling and target shooting. Jasper Place returned home winning all events but am sure they will have a tougher battle next time.

Would like to thank all the civilian committee members and officers who made this visit such a success, and a big thanks to the mothers who helped with the lunch and dinner served at the Legion Hall. A note of thanks to John Hurley for all his help at the bowling alley.

On March 9 the Squadron was visited by Commander G.M. Manson R.C.N. (ret.) National Director of the Duke of Edinburgh's Awards. He spoke on this program and it appears the Squadron is 100 per cent in favor of participating in it.

On March 12, 25 cadets went to CFB Namao and had familiarization flights in a Dakota aircraft. Thanks to drivers V. Ranks, J. Tyler, C. Lathe, E. Smith, J. Erickson, and O. Carl. Many of the cadets had the opportunity of piloting the aircraft during their flight.

Hawaiian draw tickets and monies must be handed in immediately, irrespective of whether all tickets in books are sold or not.

Assessment and Selection Board plus a workshop for the 'Mynarski Mirror' correspondents will be held March 25 and 26 at CFB Penhold. Five 733 cadets are trying for scholarships at these boards.

Sgt. Ranks--Gliding Scholarship; Sgt. MacMillan--Senior Leadership Course; LAC Reno Martin--Physical Education & Recreation Scholarship; LAC Carl--Technical Scholarship (Engines); LAC G. Empringham--Bush Survival, Ground Search and Rescue Course.

LAC L. Ross and Cdt. G. Smith are the 733 Squadron correspondents for the 'Mynarski Mirror'-the CFB Penhold newspaper which has donated space for RCAC news of interest.

The Squadron is busy rehearsing for the new RCAC Ensign Dedication and presentation ceremony to be held April 27, along with a ceremony of Allegiance. Also the Annual Inspection which will take place the last week in May or the first week in June.

Outline Role Of County Police

The following information surrounding the operation of the County of Parkland No. 31 Police Department has been prepared to better acquaint residents of the County about the Police Force, and the service they have available.

ENFORCEMENT AREAS

County Police will investigate all complaints and motor vehicle accidents, other than accidents or complaints on Provincial Highways e.g. Highway No. 16, Highway No. 57, etc. Complaints on numbered Provincial highways should be investigated by the R.C.M.P. Should a resident, however, complain to the County Police, the matter will be referred to the R.C.M.P. for them. The County Police enforce all county By-laws, Provincial Acts, and most Criminal Code Offences, other than those criminal offences of a very serious nature.

ORGANIZATION

There are six full time constables and a chief constable employed by the County of Parkland, and these members are working out of three detachments, the head office being at Stony Plain, and two other detachments at Wabamun and Drayton Valley. The force is equipped with six patrol cars which are radio and telephone equipped, and each detachment office is equipped with an "Electronic Secretary" which is an automatic tape machine that answers the telephone after regular hours, and relays the phone number of the constable on call. The police offices are open from approximately 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each day, often longer during weekends. There is 24-hour police service.

COVERAGE

The Stony Plain detachment covers the area from Edmonton city limits west to Manly corner, and from 118 Avenue south to the North Saskatchewan River. Wabamun Detachment covers the points north of Highway No. 16 within the County, west from Manly corner to Entwistle, and from Highway No. 16 south to the North Saskatchewan River. Drayton Valley covers areas such as Tomahawk area, Cynthia, Lodgepole, Violet Grove, Rocky Rapids and Easyford.

DETACHMENT LOCATIONS AND TELEPHONE NUMBERS:

Stony Plain Detachment -- County Building in Stony Plain, Phone 777-2730.

Drayton Valley Detachment -- County Building in Drayton Valley, Phone 542-4619.

Wabamun Detachment -- west side of Fire Hall in Wabamun. Phone 646-2796.

If a resident or other persons should call at any of the police detachments during regular hours and find no member present, they should locate a telephone and call that office number, and the member would be reached on the car telephone. This problem would not arise in Drayton Valley as there is a secretary on duty during regular hours. If no constable is in the office at Stony Plain, the caller may check at the main office also. The police office phone numbers and the numbers of the members home phone shall be posted on the door of each detachment.

Should a citizen call by telephone and receive a recording, then call the member on duty call.

Should a citizen call by telephone, and hear a whistle on the line, this will indicate that your call is being answered by a telephone in a police car. The procedure to follow in this event is to allow the constable to speak, before you say anything, and from then on remember that only one person can speak at a time. Try to relay your complaint in a normal clear voice, and do not hesitate during a sentence otherwise your message breaks up on the receiving end. If the constable is in such a location that he cannot make out your message he shall instruct you to hang up, and call the number again in five minutes. If you have occasion to call, and receive no answer after 8 rings of the number, hang up, wait five to ten minutes, then call again. This will give the constable time to get back to his car should he be some distance from it.

Should a citizen require the services of the chief constable he may be reached at 777-2730 or after hours, call 777-2231, and leave your name and phone number. --K.L. Nicol, Chief Constable.

KNOW YOUR SCHOOLS

This "question and answer" column provides an opportunity for citizens to ask questions about education. If you have any questions concerning the schools you are encouraged to send it to -- "Know Your Schools?", Box 777, Stony Plain, Alberta.

QUESTION -- What is the School Foundation Program?

ANSWER -- Simply stated, it is the major means of financing the costs of elementary and secondary education in the Province of Alberta. The idea was first introduced during the 1961 session of the legislature. Provincial support of school costs certainly existed prior to 1961, but the new "foundation" concept was Alberta's first attempt to bring together a variety of subsidy and incentive programs to form a single support base. It is on this base that the financial partnership between local and provincial government is built. The Foundation Program is nothing more, nor less, than a formula for the distribution of available monies.

QUESTION -- where does the money come from?

ANSWER -- Essentially, the Foundation Program pools two money sources into a central fund:

Source 1 -- The General Revenues of the Province. This includes revenues realized from provincial excise taxes, federal income tax collections and the sale of mineral leases. The government votes a portion of these revenues into the Foundation Fund.

Source 2 -- A Standard Levy on Equalized Assessments. A separate levy of 30 mills is placed on the assessed value of property in the province. All revenues from this levy go into the Foundation Fund.

When school boards cannot meet their anticipated expenses from money provided through the Foundation Fund, they must either cut back on expenses or raise money locally. They do this by placing a tax levy upon the assessed value of property under their jurisdiction. This local tax is additional to the provincial tax and is therefore called a "supplementary" requisition. Certain provincial government limitations have been placed upon local school boards in their use of supplementary requisitions.

The supplementary requisition in the County of Parkland during 1971 amounted to $259,690.00. Total revenues from the Foundation Fund to the County in 1971 amounted to $4,033,014.48.

QUESTION -- How are Foundation Funds distributed?

ANSWER -- Prior to 1970 the Department of Education, which is responsible for the program's administration, distributed most foundation funds on the basis of a certain amount of money for each enrolled student, and for each employed teacher. Building costs and transportation grants were, of course, handled differently. At the 1970 session of the legislature, the Government announced a major change in the old distribution formula. Mainstays of the new formula are the Classroom Unit (CRU) and the Support Staff Grant (SSG).

The basis of Foundation support has shifted, then, from individual pupil and teacher grants to a "package" grant based upon a group of 26 students.

The CRU grant in 1971 was set at a standard sum of $10,759.00. It was established after considering the current provincial average for costs of qualified instruction, operation, and maintenance of a unit of twenty-six pupils. Since these average costs varied from elementary to junior high to senior high, a compensatory "weighting factor" was included to make up the difference.

Calculations - To calculate the number of CRU grants for which it is elegible, a school system uses the following table:

Number of Senior High Pupils divided by 26 times the weighting factor 1.8 equals CR Units.

$10,759.00 X total equals .....

NEWS NOTES FROM THE D.A.

Phone Stony Plain 777-2231 between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

E. C. LOWE, District Agriculturist
TOM BROWN, Asst. Dist. Agriculturist

In Drayton Valley each Wednesday at Sekura Auction Mart from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

There was a disappointing turnout of local producers at the Cereal and Rapeseed Production Short Course -- more came from further afield. In future, courses will be offered on a regional basis or basis of definite commitments of interest.

However, one cannot play the numbers game altogether. Those that came certainly received ample question and answer time. Fertilizer requirements of rapeseed prompted most discussion. Sherman Yelland demonstrated the extremely large amounts of nitrogen required; the response to different applications, cost of each and returns. Applications of 90 pounds per acre gave the largest net returns over and above the check strip.

Our soils will also respond readily to additions of sulphur. Except for poorly drained or heavily textured soils, a good safety measure is to add 10 to 25 lbs. of sulphur.

Mr. Yelland indicated there may be a short term cutback in production due to more rapeseed competitors in the world; larger supplies in most oilseeds this year--especially palm oil; oil content is not high enough in low erucic acid varieties to prompt orders; average rapeseed price may be lower than anticipated; may be a carryover of 25 - 40 million bushels on July 31, 1972; and fear of many producers of a Bertha Armyworm outbreak. Mr. Yelland firmly recommends converting to low erucic acid varieties as soon as possible.

A colour slide presentation was used to familiarize producers with early signs of insect and disease outbreaks.

We now have a supply of "Varieties of Cereals and Oilseeds for Alberta", 1972. Tables contain relative yields, maturity, resistance to lodging, shattering and smut and specific remarks about each variety.

A reminder to Dairy Producers to check the voters list in our office for the March 27 vote on the Comprehensive Milk Marketing Plan.

Furthermore, we have the 1972 Alberta Dairy Princess Competition Brochures in our office for your information and use. So all you single girls age 17 - 25 who are free to travel, here's your chance. You can be a suitcase milkmaid (ie. living off the farm while attending College or working) but you must have a practical and working knowledge of the Dairy Industry.

Also a new bulletin available on building and equipping your milkhouse.

A true and highly hilarious story by Duncan Pryde of his discovery of the Eskimo's remote and primitive way of life which he became easily adapted to. His account becomes all the more valuable as the traditional Eskimo society is vanishing into history.

Time for Decision

How do you rate on the following questions?

Do you find that your drinking habits are causing you problems? Do your friends avoid you when you are drinking because of your unpredictable behavior? Is your family life suffering--how often are you at home and what condition are you in when you get there? Are your children ashamed to bring their friends home? Have you tried to quit or cut down on your drinking and failed? Do you feel inferior and inadequate and are you apprehensive about the future?

Most important of all, are you happy with yourself and the way you are living? If not, and you have a sincere desire to change your life, now is the time for decision.

A call to your local Health Unit at 542-3842 will put you in touch with counsellors and agencies who can help. Your enquiries are kept in strict confidence.

One excellent treatment centre is Henwood House, located just outside of Edmonton. Here you will find an atmosphere of friendliness and concern and treatment including physical and psychological assessment.

The aim is the restoration of physical and emotional health and information on the effects of alcohol. Relaxation training and family, vocational and spiritual counselling are also included. The patients, counsellors, nurses and staff all work together to help you in your decision to find a better way of life.

The food is excellent, three good meals a day, sandwiches in the evening, coffee and juice at any hour of the day. Your days are programed so that you get the most benefit from the facilities available, nurses and counsellors are on duty 24 hours a day and a doctor is on call. The course is for 28 days, which is the length of time proven most successful, though you are free to leave at any time. The cost is $2.00 per day, although nobody is refused admission because of inability to pay. Many lasting friendships are made at Henwood--you will find some great people there, both among the patients and the staff. You'll be glad you went.

ANTI-STATIC FINISHES

The days of walking across a carpet and lighting up like a Christmas tree when you touch the doorknob will soon be memories. Slips that cling and men's Fortrel pantlegs stuck to nylon socks are also on their way out.

Static electricity has been as big a problem to clothing manufacturers. Three major fibre producers -- DuPont, Monsanto and Celanese--are doing something about it by introducing "anti-stat" finishes into their yarns. DuPont's Antron III is already familiar to us and Monsanto's 22N and Celanese' Stataway will probably become popular here.

PHYSICAL CHARACTERISTICS

1. Dissipate Electricity more quickly and completely than regular nylon. The finish doesn't eliminate static build-up, but rather, moves if off faster.

2. Transfer Moisture faster. Nylon has a reputation for not absorbing moisture and for feeling "clammy". The anti-stats have the ability to transfer moisture quickly, thus producing the effect of coolness and comfort.

3. Soil Release and Soil Resistance is much better for anti-stat nylons than for their regular cousins. For example, Monsanto's 22N has minimum attraction or retention power for soil particles and it has excellent soil-cloaking abilities because of its greater opacity and lustre.

Celenese' Stataway is more hydrophilic (moisture attracting) which permits better soil releasing.

4. Whiteness retention seems to be an inherent characteristic of the fibre and because of the soil-releasing qualities water gets in easier and releases dirt faster and more completely.

5. Opacity, Lustre and Better Hand are beneficial side effects of the treatment.

6. Improved and Easier Manufacturing has also resulted because static buildup is not the serious problem it once was.

Anti-static finishes began during the Soil Release era of 1966-67. Although the main reasons for Soil Release finishes were to aid release of soil particles and to retain whiteness, the major side effect was the reduction of static.

Soil Release features were developed specifically for polyester blends but if the anti-static benefits were evident in polyester, the same must apply to nylon. And it does.

Acrylics have a similar problem, but less serious, so it can be expected that anti-stat acrylics and anti-stat polyesters will be around soon.

POLICE BEAT

With several years of experience behind him, Corporal Robert McDowell joined the Drayton Valley RCMP detachment in 1968.

Born in Winnipeg, he attended school in Regina and Hudson Bay, Saskatchewan when his parents moved while he was at an early age.

He worked as a timber cruiser with natural resources in Northern Saskatchewan for five years, then joined the RCMP in 1954 at Regina after training in Ottawa.

Corporal McDowell was transferred to K Division in 1956, to the Edmonton detachment in 1957, to Smoky Lake in 1957, Athabasca in the same year, Edmonton Patrol in 1958, Vermilion in 1958, and Peace River in 1965. His last move to Drayton Valley came in June of 1968.

Married and with three children, Corporal McDowell has belonged to such groups as the Kinsmen and Masons, and has been active in curling clubs.

Equipment Authorized

At the last regular meeting of Town Council, Councillor Marv Helm, Recreation representative, reported on equipment required to make the joint-use facility in the Frank Maddock High School useable to groups who have shown interest in renting.

Council authorized the expenditure of $1,000 for the purchase of tables which Mr. Helm said he could have done locally at a price of $28.00 per table.

Kitchen equipment is still under consideration with Council attempting to determine the possibility of service clubs becoming involved in the project.

May 8, 1972 is World Red Cross Day. It honours the birth of Henri Dunant, founder of the Red Cross. This year's World Red Cross Day slogan "A Bridge to Humanity" highlights the vital contribution made by the Canadian Red Cross and Red Cross Societies in every country, which keep individuals aware of the urgent needs of their fellow men around the world.

Buck Creek News

The Cubs and Scouts and their parents gathered at the hall last Sunday evening when they enjoyed a pot luck supper and films.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Boschman of Peace River and Martin's mother of Grande Prairie were overnight visitors at the Simpson home recently. Mrs. Ethel Halgren and Kenny were visitors at the Oberg home over the weekend. Al and Irene Thomson and Miles spent the weekend at the George Stec home.

The MacDonald family will be curling in a Goliad Bonspiel in Drayton Valley this weekend.

Walter Stec spent the past week at home. On Tuesday Vicky and Gordon Steffenson and Joyce took Walter back to Edmonton to catch the plane for Inuvik.

MARRIAGES - 6 months notice for ecumenical couples
6 months notice for Catholic couples not attending Church regularly
The greatest amount of broken marriages and divorces occur among the ill informed, the immature and the overindulged. Let us give as much significance to the obtaining of the degree "Mr. and Mrs." as we do the academic bachelor's degree "A.D.S."
